THIS WEEK:

Digital Parenting 2.0

Digital parenting describes the efforts and actions parents take in digital environments to comprehend, support, and regulate children's activities .

With the holidays and vacations spent at home, digital parenting plays a big role in the way children will spend their time. All the videos, shows, movies, games, and social media platforms are only becoming more and more accessible...

...The increasing accessibility along with the increasing content can cause screen times to sky rocket during long periods of free time. So we at KidsTechWorld want to show you some positive ways to use this screen time, so technology works with you, not against you.

Topics:

1. Holidays!
2. Family Time
3. Screen Time
4. Digital Parenting Tips

With increasing screen times, online learning, social media, and virtual communication, it is evident that the challenges parents face are in parallel to developing technology. That is why we at KidsTechWorld believe it is so important for families to develop positive and healthy relationships with technology - which all starts with digital parenting!

Digital - for good!
